COMMUNITY LEADERS AT LOCAL BOOSTER BANQUET

Community Club Members From Many Points Attend Function

UNIVERSITY MEN SPEAK

Chancellor McCormick of Pittsburg Chief Speaker—Dr. Robertson Gives Talk

Enthusiastic addresses by Samuel Black, McCormick, D. D. chancellor of the University of Pittsburg and other well known men featured one of the most impressive banquets ever held in Charleroi, on Friday evening at the high school auditorium. The occasion was the first "booster banquet" for Community Clubs in the history of the town.

Representative men from a dozen or more communities were present at the affair, which was arranged by members of Community Club No. 1 and Community Club No. 15, of Charleroi and more than 100 were present to hear the speaking. This included leaders in community and civic work from Brownsville, Monessen, California, Monongahela, Fayette City, Belle Vernon, Speers, Bentleyville, Pittsburg and Charleroi.

A sumptuous collation was served by women of the Charleroi Free Library Association and then the speaking began. W. S. James was chairman of the evening. After a few remarks in which he characterized the banquet as the first booster banquet Mr. James introduced H. J. Booth as toastmaster. Mr. Booth in accepting the honor spoke of the prime factors in the makeup of the Community Club, which he said were education and service.

Chancellor McCormick was the first speaker introduced and he spoke on the theme of "Lessons on Europe at War." He started off by paying compliments to Charles O. Frye, the originator of the Community Club idea by telling of what Dr. Charles McCarty of the University of Wisconsin had to say of Mr. Frye and his work. Dr. McCarty maintained that Mr. Frye had a "real idea." Chancellor McCormick prefaced his remarks on the war in Europe—a very instructive and entertaining talk by the way—by indicating the need of the community club idea in Europe. He explained that with a little more community spirit there and the exchange of idea by leaders of one nation with those of another, there would not have been any war now, simply from the reason that nations would better have understood one another. He carried this argument down to the communities in small towns.

Chancellor McCormick said that no one could explain the present war. He traveled in Europe last summer and was in Germany when actual fighting started. He described at some length conditions and affairs, and asked that judgment be withheld by American people, since it was impossible for any one to comprehend completely the entire cause for the conflagration, and since in the end, probably the world would be found to blame, proposed as a means of avoidance of war generally, less feeling and more control. He said that our business is to learn about war and how to stop it, as well as how to stop the enormous incidental cost. These matters of study be remarked might well be taken up by Community Clubs.

D. K. Orr, of South Brownsville, chief engineer of the Monongahela Railroad and a member of the extension committee of the Community Club Council of Pennsylvania, the second speaker, his theme being, "How to Boost the Movement." He said the way to boost was to get filled with the idea and then to talk and work and get the mothers and children in the schools interested.

Guy Moffitt, Esq., was introduced to speak on "What the Community Club Offers the Young Man Desirous of Rendering Community Service." He spoke of the importance of the young man to the community and mentioned the Community Club as the channel for a young man to make himself an active participant in affairs of the community.

Curtis R. New, chief clerk of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company of Monessen and a member of the extension committee of the Community Club Council spoke of "Valuable Ideas in the Monessen Club Which Resulted in Community Betterment." He spoke of the general value of the Community Club idea as that of getting another man's viewpoint. Mr. New mentioned some of the accomplishments of the Community Club at Monessen such as securing an improved system of street lighting, the planting of influence for a new school by a bond issue and other matters of like import.

Frank Bebout of Monongahela, the Treasurer of the Community Club council spoke on "Future Possibilities of the Community Club Movement." He said the future depended upon each and every member of each and every club and told of the value of clubs in eliminating factions in a community.

Dr. Charles B. Robertson, director of University Extension of the University of Pittsburg, who is also president of the Community Club council was not on the official program, dropped in from a Monongahela appointment and was called upon. He made a rattling good talk. He declared the big feature of the Community Club was that of the opportunity of "talking around" and getting the viewpoints of others. Speaking of the power of a club with a common point of attack, he said to his auditors: "With all pulling together only God himself can stop you."

Charles O. Frye, the responsible person for the whole affair even if he didn't look it, was called upon for remarks and he presented briefly, interestingly and lucidly some reasons for the booster banquet.

There are now 17 active Community Clubs in Western Pennsylvania, with 10 more in the course of formation. The latest to be formed was one at the University of Pittsburg this week. The Community Club is a "get-together" movement for study of problems that confront communities. Members are carefully selected from among thinking men. No action is ever taken by the Community Club as a whole. Each problem is studied from all viewpoints and individual action taken. In this way according to the

GOV. TENER COMING FOR ELKS' MEMORIAL

Public Lodge of Sorrow Exercises to be Conducted Tomorrow Afternoon—Music Will be Among Features

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the high school auditorium Charleroi lodge, No. 494, E. P. O. Elks, will commemorate the lives of their departed dead with public memorial exercises, at which Lawrence H. Rupp of Allentown lodge No. 130 will be the chief speaker. W. R. Gaut of Charleroi lodge will deliver the eulogy. The three who died during the last year and in whose memory particularly the services will be held were John M. Roberts, William H. Coles and Edward C. Niver. Gov. John K. Tener has sent word that he will attend the services, together with his secretary, Walter H. Gaither and State Controller Samuel C. Todd. They will come from Pittsburg by special car.

One of the features of the services, this year will be that of the musical program. There will be two duets rendered by Miss Ethel Barth and Warren Kinder and two solos sung by Walter T. Vaughn of Fayette City who is a student at a Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. The excellent ability of the local musicians is known. Vaughn is a tenor of exceptional ability and promise, whose studies combined with his natural talent have made him a singer of such note that a grand opera career is predicted for him. He will sing "My Hope is in the Everlasting," by Stainer, and "How Lovely are Thy Dwellings," by Liddle. Miss Barth and Mr. Kinder will sing as their duets, "The Lord My Pasture Shall Prepare" arranged by Schinecker, and "Be of Good Comfort," Dudley Buck. Miss May Barth will be the pianist and will play a prelude and a recessional.

The invocation will be said by Rev. Wesley G. Mead, Ph. D., and Rev. P. E. Maher of Roscoe, will pronounce the benediction.

The exercises will be public and the committee in charge has issued a general invitation.

PLANS LAID FOR COUNTY INSTITUTE

Many Teachers Engage Accommodations For Annual Gathering at Washington

The greater number of teachers of Washington county have already announced their intention of attending the county institute in Washington having ordered tickets for the evening entertainments. More than 500 instructors have sent in their orders and additional orders are being received.

Superintendent Crumrine has started marking off seats on the chart, the marking being done as formerly announced in the order that the requests came in. In a few districts of the county the directors have failed to report to the superintendent the names of new teachers chosen since the annual report was sent in, so trouble arises sometimes when orders come in from teachers whose names are not on the list.

In such cases the superintendent is obliged to have evidence from the boards employing the said instructors before he will send out the tickets for the entertainments of the week.

FUNERAL OF REV. JONATHAN HANN TO BE HELD SUNDAY

Funeral services for Rev. Jonathan Hann who died suddenly Friday at his home in Speers will be held Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the late home, Rev. Wesley G. Mead, Ph. D., pastor of the Charleroi M. E. church will be in charge though other ministers will be present to assist. Masonic rites will be held by the local lodge, F. and A. M. and Odd Fellows will probably have their ritualistic funeral service. Other orders to which Rev. Hann belonged will send representatives of their members. Interment will be in the Monongahela cemetery.

ATHENE CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Study of Life of Savanorala is Taken up Friday Afternoon

Mrs. C. C. Wright was hostess at the fortnightly meeting of the Charleroi Athene club Friday afternoon, when the study of the life of "Savanorala" was taken up. Mrs. A. R. Mountsier presented a paper on "Savanorala, the man, the religious enthusiast, the politician, the maker of history." Mrs. Edwin McKay presented a paper on "Siege of Florence." The matter of the sale of Red Cross seals was taken up by the club. Mrs. T. M. Faddis is the chairman of the committee to arrange here for the sale by the club.

BAZAAR AT METHODIST CHURCH IS SUCCESS

The Christmas Bazaar held at the Methodist Episcopal church Thursday and Friday was a decided success. It is believed that after all expenses are paid and all the money gotten in more than $200 will have been realized. The bazaar was well patronized and everything was sold.

Notice to Gas Consumers.

Under a ruling of the Public Service Commission, it is prescribed that the allowance of a discount on any bill rendered by a Public Service company, after the expiration of the period established for the allowance of such discount is a discrimination and is forbidden by the Public Service Company law of this state.

It will therefore be necessary in order to secure the discount, to have remittance in payment of your account in our hands on or before the expiration of the date specified on bills.

Remittances by mail should be posted in time to reach this office on or before the due date.

COMPANIES WILL PAY INSURANCE STAMP TAX

Legislative Terms Begin

Newly-Elected Men Virtually in Office the First of December

Pennsylvania's new legislature passed into office this week when the members of both houses elected on November 3 entered upon their terms under the constitution. Nothing happens of course until the legislature actually assembles at noon on Tuesday, January 5.

The constitution provides that terms of members shall begin on December 1 next following their election.

Terms of all assemblymen-elect, be they new members or re-elected members, therefore started this week. Terms of all senators elected in November began at the same time. Terms of the hold-over senators, the ones from the odd-numbered districts, began on December 1, 1912 and will expire two years hence.

IMPROVED SHIPMENTS INDICATED

Brisk Coal Trade Anticipated Down the Ohio River

LONG DROUTH ENDED

A shipment of approximately 10,000,000 bushels of coal will leave the Pittsburgh docks the coming week when the Ohio river reaches a safe coal shipping stage. It will be the largest shipment in the history of the river.

The rise in the Ohio river coming at this time is declared to be good news to hundreds of miners along the Monongahela river, who have been laid up because of low water and the rivermen were idle. Barges became scarce and the river mines suspended and all those affected have been anxious for the ending of the longest drought known in a decade.

Nearly four millions bushels of coal has already been started down the Ohio river. Crews are being selected for boats and the boats that have been tied up down stream have started up the Ohio river.

It is declared that coal is scarce in the eastern cities and it is also expected that foreign shipments will open within a short time. Coal men are looking forward to better business and new life in coal trade.

Indications of a betterment in conditions was shown by a report of a stage of 10.4 feet in the river at Lock No. 1 today. The river is rising.

Underwriters Association Will Turn Back Accounts

DECISION IS AWAITED

Insurance Commissioners to Get Word as to Whom Shall Foot the Bill

Monongahela valley people will not be called upon to pay the stamp tax on insurance at present, according to the decision of the Monongahela Valley Underwriters Association at a meeting held in Charleroi Friday afternoon. The tax will be charged back to the companies issuing the policies until such time that insurance commissioners get a definite judicial decision on the point. The law it is urged fails to note whether the insuring company or the insured shall pay the stamp tax of one-half of one per cent on every dollar of premium.

Albert Wilson of Pittsburg, secretary of the Monongahela Valley Underwriters Association presided at the meeting, which was attended by about 70 representative insurance men from points between Brownsville to Finleyville. The meeting was held in the Charleroi Savings and Trust company building.

The new stamp tax was discussed from all points as it pertains to insurance. It had been the idea previously that the tax would have to be paid by the people. Without question, but upon investigation some of the companies went to the extent of sending out literature announcing that they would bear the brunt of the expense, inasmuch as the law failed to specify who should pay. This was one thing that led to the meeting being called here Friday and led to the action which was taken. Now agents will sell insurance and place the stamp tax expense account against the companies they represent.

FIVE SHOWS ONLY AT THE COYLE MONDAY

The Coyle Theatre management announces there will be but five performances Monday of Annette Kellerman in "Neptunes Daughter."

Two shows in the afternoon and three at night. Doors will open at 12:45 and the show will start promptly at one o'clock. The evening performance will begin at six o'clock. Mr. Coyle suggests that all who can see the afternoon performances.

THE WAR TAX.

The American people are not feeling the reality of the European war, says the Washington Observer. The war tax or emergency revenue measure of the government is now in operation and the people generally are beginning to feel the financial burden as well as some minor inconveniences as a result.

While the war tax does not fall heavily on any one class, there are few who will not bear a part of the burden.

The American people are as a rule very philosophic about their taxes, although naturally they object to paying more taxes than are absolutely necessary or justifiable for the proper conduct of their government.

A war tax in time of peace is more objectionable than one in time of war.
The American people are paying taxes now, not to support a war of their own but on the ostensible plea that the government, having been deprived of its chief source of revenue—that on imports, is forced to raise a tax directly on the people. Such a tax is always unpopular and will undoubtedly have an effect politically on the present administration.

This is the more so because the last congress dominated by the Democratic party was one of the most extravagant in the history of the country.

Many of those conversant with the affairs of the government believe that the $100,000,000 or more which it is necessary to raise by a special tax at this time, could have been saved through rigid economy.

In spite of what the true facts may be as to the necessity of the present tax in times of peace the present administration will be forced to bear the unpopularity of both the income tax however wise and the present tax in time of peace.

Perhaps the next congress which will also be Democratic will learn a lesson from the present situation and be more economical in the future.
Public economy is just as essential to the well being of the people as individual economy.

GOOD BUSINESS.

Business and industrial conditions directly in Charleroi are not so bad after all. Mills, mines and other industries, while not operating to their normal capacity are nevertheless operating on a general average of about 75 per cent.

There is no intention to admit a spirit of boastfulness, but the community's good fortune may be remarked. If we continue to escape the worst of the financial depression which has hit the country, we can readily afford to rejoice.

The Christmas season is now here, and of all the years this is the time when good business should reign.
There is a lot in psychology as applied to good business. If we can persuade ourselves business is good most surely it will be, for we work up an enthusiasm that results in the sale of goods and services. It is not a matter of chance, but of effort, and for the general public.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

It is related that a party of hunters including a good-natured German, recently enjoyed a hunting trip to Greene county. Upon their return within two days the German told a story of the shooting of his dog. Apparently his hearers did not understand.

"Was the dog mad?" one of them retorted.
"Was he mad?" exclaimed the German, "Well, he didn't seem one bit pleased."

"Airs!" exclaimed the proud moth-

WAR BULLETINS

London, Dec. 5.—An unofficial dispatch from Petrograd says that the battle of Lodz has ended successfully for the Russians, and great numbers of German prisoners, cannon and machine guns are being taken into Lodz. The German statement from Berlin is opposed to this, which says the German offensive in Poland is taking its normal course. The fighting has developed into such a jumble that it is impossible to tell much about it. Military men do not look for the early fall of Cracow.

London, Dec. 5.—Canada, Tipper-youths of 18 years of age in France, who would normally begin service in the army in October of 1916, are by government decree to be called to present themselves for examination beginning on December 20. Their military training probably will begin in March, and they may take the field about next July.

London, Dec. 5.—The German troops in Flanders like the Belgians, are suffering from a typhoid fever epi-

An Artful Practice

The proverbial saying that "Saving is a greater art than gaining" is surely practical, because the average wage-earner of America gets a salary that more than covers his actual expenses—and yet the percentage of working men having bank accounts, is comparatively small.

Are you one of these few? If not you should start a savings account and begin to practice the art of saving a portion of your salary.

A dollar deposited with this bank will get you into the habit.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS

Charleroi People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home.

It's not words but deeds that prove true merit.

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills. For Charleroi kidney sufferers. Have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of Charleroi people.

Mrs. Fred Jackson, 207 Prospect Avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "About five years ago I was troubled by a constant backache. If I did a little extra work the pain in my back was intense. I didn't rest well at night and got up in the morning lame and stiff. If I stooped, sharp pains caught me and I could hardly straighten up. I also had rheumatic twinges in my back and arms and I couldn't do my sweeping. Dizzy spells and hot flashes bothered me terribly. As Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in the family, I got a box at Piper's Pharmacy and began taking them. One box practically cured me. I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a young sufferer from kidney and bladder complaint."

Write to all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Jackson had. Foster-McClellan Co. Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

A NOTRE DAME LADY'S APPEAL

To all knowing sufferers of rheumatism, whether muscular or of the joints, sciatica, lumbago, backache, pains in the kidney, or neuralgia pains, to write to her for a home treatment which has repeatedly cured all of these troubles. She feels it her duty to send it to all sufferers FREE. You cure yourself at home as thousands will testify—no change of climate being necessary. This simple discovery banishes uric acid from the blood, loosens the stiffened joints, purifies the blood and brightens the eyes, giving elasticity and tone to the whole system. If the above interests you, for proof address Mrs. M. Summers, Box E, Notre Dame, Ind.

Remember Him with a shaving set, smoking set, military set or a pretty jewelry gift. You can find plenty to select from at Porter's Jewelry Store 534 Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi. 124-tf

DECRIES MODERN WAYS

ENGLISH PREACHER URGES RETURN TO OLD IDEAS

Sees Evil Days Ahead for the Nation in the Decay of Family Life—Wealthy Homes Included in the Exhortation.

An energetic protest against what he regarded as the decay of family life in the country, followed by the warning that it would conduce to the fall of England, as it led in great part to the fall of Greece and Rome in ancient times, was made by Canon Hawley in the course of a sermon preached at St. Paul's cathedral, London, England.

Beginning his remarks with a description of the home life of Christ as a child, he declared that the nursery of the salvation of the world was home and home life. It was a fact patent on all sides that home and the discipline of home were on the wane, and with this were being lost the best opportunities there were for noble education. There was something about the atmosphere of a Jewish home which was learned by no direct teaching, but which breathed its benison upon the household and unconsciously affected it. That was the duty owed to the parents and the solidarity of the family life.

Among Christian people, he said, in the homes of the poor it was often the woman who was called upon to drudge till she died to keep the family together. The idea of being responsible for such care of girlhood as would prevent its ruin was a thing unthinkable in many a house. The girl, as soon as she had her evening meal, went out with her friend and came home when she would. Little children of three and four openly defied their parents, and he had seen such parents apparently showing off to a circle of admiring friends on a bank holiday the spirit that is in him when a creature of six kicked his father's shins and cursed his mother to her face.

In the homes of the wealthy the same cancer of lack of parental authority and want of discipline was felt. The parents were tolerated by the rising generation rather than held in reverence. A familiarity which tended to make a father's word of no avail was fostered from early days. The nexus between son and home as soon as the young man went out into the world was a purely cash nexus, and the girl grew up to feel that home duties were intolerable. At the first opportunity she would join her girl friend in a flat and arrange her life without any reference to her father or mother.

"Greece passed away with all its brilliance partly because it had no home life," he continued. "Rome found its belief in home life too weak to withstand the change from city state to empire, and the corroding influence of a decadent orientalism. There is nothing that would prevent our going the way of Greece and Rome unless we will once more make the ideal of home that Christ would have it to be, over the eyes of the fathers and mothers of the land to their sense of opportunity as the makers of the character of the next generation, and recall the children to the duties owed to the home."

He Decided to Turn Out

It took 1,200 pounds of dynamite to force a "road hog" descending the Bear Creek hill, in Santa Ana canyon to give the right of way to Henry Shay, of the Bear Valley Transportation company, who was headed for the top. At a narrow stretch in the grade the two machines stopped within a few feet of each other. There was no room to turn out except on some rocks.

"I have a heavy truckload, and can't make it," Shay told the driver of the touring car.

"That's not my fault," retorted the other. "I won't turn out."

"Well, all right. Smash into my machine if you want to," yelled Shay. There's 1,200 pounds of dynamite aboard."

The descending automobile backed up and turned out without further ceremony.—San Bernardino (Cal.) Dispatch Los Angeles Times.

Quick Wit Dazes Rubbers

John Neale and William P. Shepard, cashier, and assistant cashier of the Shacket & Williams Lithograph company, carrying a box containing $2,500 were held up by three young men as they waited for the elevator in the plant of the company at Grand street and Morgan avenue, Williamsburg, N. Y. Two of the men drew revolvers and the third, a blond Neale and Shepard with a blackhawk. Neale lunged to the top of the elevator, but dropped it just as the elevator came down. Charles H. French, the elevator man, saw what was happening, seized the bag, threw it back into the elevator, and before the astonished highwaymen knew what was happening, he was shooting about. The holdup men got away, leaving Neale and Shepard badly bruised.

Vocational Work in a Building

An experimental school of vocational education is planned to be opened in the Woolworth building, New York, by the Merchants' association, with the co-operation of the board of education and the employers of more than 100 of the boys and girls who work in the building. The school will be in charge of the association's committee on vocational education.

YOU MAY PAY MORE

But you will not get work that is any better.

These statements refer to job printing. Our facilities are complete. We use only the best material, and our prices are based on a living profit for first class work. We will do no other kind.

HURRY

Is often unavoidable, and when it is you can depend on us to throw the clutch over to the third speed and do job printing as quick as any concern. But we prefer to have more time—time in which to do the very best possible work.

That Job Printing

You will need soon should be ordered now. Then it will be ready when you want it. No one will be hurried.

If you are thinking about having some printing done "next week" please see us about it today.

RUBBER STAMPS

Are all very well for certain purposes. They are a necessary part of the equipment of most offices. But they were never intended to be used to print letterheads, billheads or envelopes, and the man who uses stationary printed with a rubber stamp makes a bad impression on his correspondents.

Let us show you samples of our Job Printing and quote prices. You may be surprised to learn how little good letterheads cost.

That Letter—

You never received a reply to it, and you wonder if it was delivered or if it was lost. If your name and address had been on the envelope it would have been returned to you if the addressee could not be found.

Let us show you how cheap we can print 500 or 1,000 envelopes. We will also print letterheads. The material, workmanship and price will be right.

WHY LUGGAGE?

It has long been a custom to give traveling accessories for holiday gifts; WHY?

Is there a reason why so many people should be possessed of the same idea? If so have you ever paused to consider?

It has been said that "Every man is judged by the luggage he carries." This being the case wouldn't most people want their friends to appear at their best advantage? And since luggage is used while away from home—among strangers so to speak, wouldn't it be an act of friendship to have him appear at his best?

That's just the reason that luggage is so popular for gift purposes, and for that reason we are exceptionally careful to select the best in traveling accessories for the holiday trade.

DO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING EARLY

Our 1915

CHRISTMAS CLUB Will Open December 21st

OUR PURPOSE in maintaining this department is to afford an easy and sure way for the accumulation of ready money for definite purposes through the process of a systematic laying aside of a small sum at regular periods. It is designed to promote the habit of "thrift" among both the young and those of more mature years by providing an opportunity for depositing in bank the small sums that are frequently frittered away.

Whatever purpose you may be saving money to fulfill—it pays to open a Christmas Club account—it pays and helps. It provides a system under which you can watch the accumulation grow, while all the time your fund is protected from thoughtless, wasteful spending and held true to your object.

SURVEYING IN FAR NORTH

Work Has to Be Done Quickly or Party Is in Grave Danger of Being Frozen In.

North of the Porcupine river, on the upper section of the Alaska-Canada boundary survey, the geodesists assigned to this work by the two governments found that only 100 days elapsed from the first navigation up the river in May until it was time to retreat rather than take the risk of being frozen in.

The highest and most difficult climbs on the work were probably made this last season, when one of the Canadian topographical parties occupied Mount Natashtat, 13,000 feet high, and a joint American and Canadian party succeeded in getting up without about two thousand feet of the summit of Mount St. Elias, which towers 18,000 feet above the sea. This party would probably have been successful in reaching the summit had not a four days' snow storm depleted their supplies to such an extent that they were forced to retreat to their base, 40 miles away over the glaciers.—Engineering Record.

WELL ADAPTED TO THE WORK

Dredge Employed to Dig Channel Through Cranberry Marsh a Credit to Designers.

In Wisconsin there is a clamshell bucket dredge in use which at each shovelful removes an amount of material much greater than the size of the bucket itself. The reason is that the outfit is being used to dig a channel through a cranberry marsh, where the material to be cleared away varies all the way from tangled weeds to hardpan. The eventual object of this channel, which is 30 feet wide and 6 feet deep, is to drain 1,500 acres of cranberry land. In one section of this land there is a lake, the waters of which must be distributed throughout the bogs during certain seasons of the year. The use of this type of bucket, which, besides digging into hard ground, will also come away with bushes of underbrush, matted boughs, etc., hanging from its jaws, illustrates the art of adapting the tool to the work.—Popular Mechanics.

Angleworm "Farm."

There are "farms," it seems, the products of which bear no relation to farming as ordinarily pursued. The latest addition to the list is an angleworm "farm," conducted by Mr. W. Orton Moon, who lives near Grand Rapids, Mich. His farm is one of the curiosities of Michigan. It consists of 25 pails, pots, pans and old crocks. Each receptacle, or "field," contains from 40 to 500 angleworms.

During the last three years his peculiar crop has netted him $1,000 annually. He delivers his worms in oiled-paper packages, one dozen to the package, at ten cents each. Here is his way of rearing angleworms:

Get several good angleworms. Place them in an ordinary pail, or granite receptacle, with two double handfuls of earth. Feed the worms twice a day on coffee grounds and corn meal. They will thrive and multiply.—Youth's Companion.

Hook and Eye.

The scene was a teachers' training college; the class one of girls; the lecturer on phonetics a gentleman with a nice taste in sarcasm. "This sound," he said, "has for symbol something even you can all remember—a dress-maker's hook; just the ordinary thing you are all familiar with." As he spoke, says the Manchester Guardian, he drew the symbol in chalk on the board, and the worried pupils all laughed. Even they—to borrow the professor's remark—knew that the "hook" depicted was an "eye."

TO KEEP HIS MEMORY GREEN

Boston Man Who Had Long Made Hotel His Home Remembered Old Friends in Will.

There is one face and one kindly smile missing in the lobby and dining room of Young's hotel that will be missed for a long time by those to whom the man who owned them had become a part of the big hospitality, says the Boston Journal.

The man was Henry K. Barnes, a man whom some called a "lovely old bachelor," without a wife or kin. But these didn't know, as the employees of Young's hotel can testify to. For 15 years—as many as he had been a guest of the hotel—the old man had many kin, and they ranged from the pretty young telephone girls in the lobby down to the aging head waiter, George Betts, who had been in the hotel as long as Mr. Barnes, a member of the firm of R. K. Barnes & Co., manufacturer of leather supplies, had been there himself.

As an evidence of the esteem in which he held these friends, the old man, "without kin or kin," has left many bequests to his friends in the hotel, and they are telling over there of the many things he did while making the hotel his home to make life a bit more cheerful for those with whom he came in daily contact. There are instances told of how he sent young stenographers home in taxicabs when the rain or snow was bad—there are others who are keeping post cards sent them by Mr. Barnes from far southern places when he was away on business trips—and for Christmas gifts and ordinary gifts they are saying at Young's that it will be a long time before any one can take his place.

FIXED HIM FOR THE EVENING

Wherever He Went, Wife Was Pretty Sure Hubby Would Not Do Any Roof Gardening.

Dr. A. F. Christian, a Boston physician, announces that ice cream is the best remedy for alcoholism. At a recent luncheon, Doctor Christian, apropos of this fact, told a story.

"Roof gardens," he said, "and roof gardening, during the wife's absence at the seashore, are responsible for a good deal of midsummer alcoholism. But if the wife is home, she can restrain the roof-gardening tendencies on her husband's part."

"Thus, a would-be roof gardener said to his wife the other evening after dinner:

"I'll have to return to the office right away, my dear. And I'm afraid I'll be kept rather late. I've got to post my books for the entire month."

"Will you be going anywhere else besides the office?" she said, calmly.

"Er—no," he replied.

"Then," said she, "I'll just ask you to stop in at the corner grocery before it closes and get me a couple of nice salt mackerel. You can bring them home with you afterward."

"Er—all right," he muttered.

"Then, as he set out, gloomily, his wife said to herself with a smile:

"Well, I guess he won't do much roof-gardening tonight with two great big wet mackerel in his pocket."

Latest Engine of Warfare.

A terrible weapon of warfare has been invented. In the British Naval Annual for 1914, just published, there is a description of a contrivance that might almost be described as devilish.

It is of the Leon torpedo mine, which has now been acquired and is being manufactured by a British firm. This engine is so constructed that it can be set to hover between any depths below the surface that may be desired. When placed in the water it has a slight negative buoyancy, and sinks until automatically a propeller is brought into action which drives it upwards again. It can be used in the open sea by any type of ship, or, in the case of tidal harbors, it could be released by a vessel outside so as to make its way with the tide into the anchorage, and perhaps destroy shipping there. A touch on the deadly steel "whiskers" which project from its upper surface, and the enemy would be sent to the bottom.

Practical Danish Schools.

In the schools of Denmark, "reading and spelling are not mechanized and treated as arts complete in themselves, but taught in an incidental way. Separate spelling is unknown." These schools have been carefully studied by men sent by Commissioner Claxton to find out how they have changed "a poor, war-crippled country into a rich, happy one." Character development is one of the chief aims of the folk high school, and men and women of all ages go to school to learn how to do their daily work better. The men attend mainly in winter and the women in summer.—The World's Chronicle.

No Piker.

"Of course you know what our curriculum is?" said the head of a young woman's finishing school to Mr. New-rocks, who had called to enter his daughter.

"No, I don't," answered Mr. New-rocks, "but put that in the bill, too, and I'll pay for it."

Found Radium in Jamaica.

An English expert asserts that, after prolonged prospecting, he has discovered an extensive radium deposit on a Jamaican mountain. A sample sent to the United States for analysis has been pronounced to be satisfactory.
